

Job Description: Police Officer

DEFINITION

During an assigned tour of duty, on foot, or in an automobile, patrols a designated area to provide assistance and protection for persons, to safeguard property, to assure observance of the law, and to apprehend lawbreakers; does related work as required.

NOTE: The definition and examples of work for this title are for illustrative purposes only. A particular position using this title may not perform all duties listed in this job specification. Conversely, all duties performed on the job may not be listed.

DISTINGUISHING CHARACTERISTICS

Police Officers provide services to the public and enforce laws by issuing summonses, apprehending, warning, or taking into custody any lawbreakers.

Police Officers patrol designated areas in a patrol car, on a bicycle, or on foot to protect life and property, maintain order, assure the observance of statutes and local ordinances, and apprehend lawbreakers.

Police Officers receive dispatches via radio concerning complaints or disturbances which require immediate attention. They investigate complaints of misconduct, suspicious behavior, illegal activities, improper conditions, and other matters. They check the condition of occupied buildings and report anything which appears significant or suspicious. They investigate if signs of tampering are discovered and notify interested persons or headquarters. They also check out cars parked in restricted areas.

Police Officers maintain order at public gatherings by using crowd control techniques. They regulate and control pedestrian and vehicular traffic to ensure safe and rapid traffic movement with minimal interference. Often they are called on to direct and reroute traffic around accidents, parades, and other disruptions. At times police officers assist and protect children at street crossings near schools and playgrounds.

Police Officers take charge at the scene of an accident. Upon arriving on the scene, they administer first aid to the injured and call for ambulances if necessary. They then investigate the causes of the accident, evaluate the results, and file reports on the information gathered. They also issue summonses when the situation warrants.
