The Barnegat Township Police Department has a long and proud history of partnering with the community to be proactive in solving and preventing crime. As technology advances, so too do the ways in which residents are able to assist our agency. Perhaps the most helpful advancement in recent years has been the ability of residents with home video security systems to review their video footage in order to assist in providing information about incidents that occurred in the area of their homes.

In order to build on these advances and assist our officers, we are moving forward with a suggestion made by a Barnegat resident during a recent community meeting. The suggestion was to create a geo-database that will allow officers to see which homes in an area have home video security systems with external cameras. When a crime such as a burglary or theft occurs in your neighborhood, officers will be able to check the geo-database for homes with cameras that may have captured video of a subject or vehicle of interest. In such cases, officers would contact the homeowner and request to review the footage with the owner.

Registering your system in the geo-database is entirely voluntary. Sharing video footage with the Barnegat Police Department is also entirely voluntary with each and every incident. Registering your system does not obligate you to share or review video footage, nor does it give the Barnegat Police Department access to your system.

Residents who are interested in adding their system to the geo-database can visit the link listed below. After completing the form, please email it to: Burke416@Barnegat.net
